

Intellectual Property

We offer legal advice and solutions for your business needs revolving around intellectual property. We also offer seminars on intellectual property issues. Copyright. We assist clients in securing and defending your rights in their copyrighted works. We also assist in licensing or acquiring the various copyrights of others for our clients. Trademark. Modern businesses use trademarks extensively with the advent of the Internet there is even more room for trademark confusion and violations. We help our clients file federal trademarks and assist with the entire process of trademark registration. We also assist in protecting your mark, whether registered or not, on the Internet as well as in general commerce. Patents. We help clients with patent licensing. Whether the client wishes to sell their rights, or acquire other party's rights we can help with this aspect of patent law. The following is a list of intellectual property law issues with which we can assist you: Copyrights: Securing your copyright with the Library of Congress, protecting your copyright from infringers, advice in preventing infringement of your copyright, sale or licensing of your copyright to others, and securing of your use of other's copyrights (rights clearing). Trademarks: Registering your trademark with the U.S. Patent Office, protecting your trademark from infringers, and any type of trademark licensing agreements. Patents: Sales or purchases of patent rights and any type of technology sharing/licensing agreement.
